Final notes:

Don't print out this page if you don't need/want it in your record book.

This book is pretty straightforward The Adventure Record page should be printed alone for each adventure the character participates in.

The rectangle on the cover is for a portrait of your character. If you are going to keep this as a digital copy or if you would like to use the same font I used to make this for the data fields then I would recommend the ODT version. I use Libre Office under Windows 10. The font used is Enchantment.

I use PDF tools for the PDF version for merging in additional adventure log sheets as well as making updates. An online PDF editor works just as well. If you are going to print it out then you only need to print out additional Adventure logs and updated other pages as needed. If you have any questions I can be reached on the BFRPG forums just post a reply to the thread about this Character Book.
